FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OPENING.

A Great Occasion for Honoring God With Prayer, Praise and Preaching.
Audience Immense.

The hour of 11 o'clock Sunday morning found the magnificent new First Baptist church crowded to overflowing with a great congregation gathered to witness and take part in the opening services. The pastors of the Methodist, Christian, Presbyterian and Free Baptist churches held no morning services, leaving their congregations free to accept the cordial invitation to attend, and there were also many present from the country and some from surrounding towns. It was conservatively estimated that there were twelve hundred people in the house, many of whom were seated on chairs and on the stairway and many standing, while probably one hundred failed to gain admission.

The conditions were ideal for the service—the beautiful new building, a fair and balmy day, the excellent music of the large choir, a great and sympathetic audience, and a preacher with the intelligence and ability not only to meet the demands of the occasion, but what is vastly more important, a man of God whose spiritual vision swept out and beyond church walls and earthly confines and enabled him to picture the beauties and glories of that spiritual church whose enduring foundation is Jesus Christ, and whose walls are redeemed souls, each stone a heart that God has touched.

The musical program was well chosen and given with fine effect, Mrs. H. O. Boatwright playing the opening and closing numbers on the piano, with trombone accompaniment, and also all the accompaniments. The vocal solo, "Babylon," by Mrs. Webb Howell, was a rare treat. Special mention is also due regarding the trombone solos of Mr. H. C. Collier of Waco, who is the master of that instrument.

The prayers of Rev. A. M. Stewart, Dr. J. D. West and Elder Crane, offered at the appointed intervals, were full of feeling and earnestness, and bespoke the hearty unanimity of Christian sentiment that prevails among the preachers and their congregations, the devout thankfulness for the completion of the new temple for the worship of the living God, and above all the zeal and solicitude of each minister for an early outpouring of God's spirit and saving power upon this community. A scripture lesson from the seventy-second division of the Psalms was read by Dr. I. F. Betts, who invoked God's blessing upon his word.

Rev. B. H. Dement, pastor of the First Baptist church of Waco, preached the opening sermon, announcing as his subject "The Church and Its Services." His text was from first Timothy 3:15: "But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth." The sermon was eloquent and forceful, and made a profound impression. The first division of it was descriptive of the church in its temporal existence and as a spiritual edifice, the distinction being clearly and beautifully drawn and elaborated.

The second part of the discourse was preceptive, relating to the work of the church and the duties and obligations of membership. The sermon was full of Christ, following Him through the prophecy of the old testament and His personal ministry in the gospels. With Christ as the foundation of this spiritual temple of redeemed souls, the essentials were seen to be a regenerated church membership, spiritual unity, individual responsibility, and willingness to serve in whatever position God in this providence has placed us; acceptance of divine ownership by reason of creation, purchase and preservation; a vitalized assembly, a firm support of the truth, with human hearts to feel it and human tongues to proclaim it; a suitable place of worship, the history of a church being written in its buildings; frequent assembling together for religious worship, the praise of songs and prayers, and the proclaiming of God's word in its simplicity and truth.

The necessity for the modern church buildings, with various departments and utilities was shown in order that religion may take hold of social as well as the spiritual life of the people, and while the church and all its auxiliaries are a harmonious unity, it affords, by reason of the broadening of its sphere of usefulness, greater opportunity for the labor of all in the Master's cause.

As a preface to the sermon Rev. Dement congratulated the pastor and congregation of the Baptist church and the community at large upon the great achievement accomplished in building the splendid structure, and upon the opening of the way to greater activities and increased opportunities for usefulness. The church objectives the religious sentiment of the congregation and the community, and few cities the size of Bryan possess such a magnificent one, testifying to the Christian zeal, devotion and generosity of the people.

Following the sermon the pastor, Dr. Butler, made a statement regarding the work of the committees and the finances of the church and gave an opportunity to the congregation to make a thank offering toward the remaining indebtedness. Cards were passed in the collection plates upon which persons desiring to make contributions, to be paid within ten days, might indicate the amount.

Rev. Dement preached Sunday night from the subject, "Mountain Top Experiences." Rev. R. G. Bowman of Waco preached last night on "The Revival and how to Promote It." He will occupy the pulpit again tonight his theme being "My Obligation to the church."

All are cordially invited to attend the rally week services every night this week and next Sunday.

DISTRICT COURT MEETS.

Regular March Term—Lists of Grand and Petit Jurors.

The regular March term of the Brazos county district court convened yesterday with District Judge J. C. Scott of Franklin on the bench and District Attorney J. M. Ralston of Cameron representing the state. Sheriff Nall and District Clerk Frank Crouch were on hand to serve the first term of the district court since their election. The jurors were on hand promptly and all having excuses were allowed to go. Everybody seemed in a good humor, organization was easily effected and the business of the court moved off nicely.

The following grand jurors were sworn in and duly charged by Judge Scott according to statutory provisions: Ed Crenshaw, foreman; P. L. Barron, A. A. Dean, C. C. Dulaney, Peter Goodson, T. P. Hall, J. Webb Howell, Thos. Hensarling, J. T. Jones, J. K. Presnal, John Pate, J. P. Royder, and the following petit jurors, summoned for the first week, were also sworn: A. P. Todd, W. H. Walker, O. L. Wilcox, W. P. Trant, Jas. H. Webb, T. B. Martin, J. E. Leonard, J. C. Lloyd, L. D. McGee, T. W. Drew, D. Cahill, R. H. Carroll, W. G. Blanton, R. L. Buchanan, T. T. Goodwin, D. F. Dansby, W. R. Parker, George Gilbert, W. M. Hudspeth, W. L. Hensarling, W. G. Graham.

Bailiffs for the grand jury: W. B. Baker, door bailiff; J. D. Conlee, C. L. Baker, C. W. Dixon, Ed Carll, J. H. Reed, Henry Kountz, M. G. Nall, C. A. Buchanan, Powell Harvey.

The civil docket was called by Judge Scott and a few orders taken.

Tyler Haswell received yesterday and bulletined a telegram announcing the death of Judge John H. Reagan at Palestine yesterday morning at 5:30 o'clock. The announcement was received with profound sorrow in the community and a telegram of condolence was sent by General H. B. Stoddard in behalf of Camp J. B. Robertson, U. C. V. General Stoddard received a message yesterday afternoon announcing that Judge Reagan will be buried with Masonic honors Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Judge Reagan was in his 87th year.

ALEXANDER-PARIS.

Home Wedding Sunday Afternoon at the Residence of Mr. and Mrs.

John B. Mike.

The brilliant home wedding of Miss Alberta Paris of Bryan and Mr. Leon R. Alexander of Marlin was solemnized Sunday afternoon at the residence of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mike, Rev. Dr. Wohlborg of Waco officiating.

The service was very impressive and the well chosen remarks of the Rabbi materially added to the charms of the ceremony.

Just prior to the entrance of the groom Miss Bertha Horetzky rendered in a most delightful manner the beautiful song, "Because," immediately following which Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Mr. Sam Fant of Houston and Miss Carrie Horetzky, on violin and piano. As the last strains were heard the ring bearer, little Lucile Mike, entered, taking her place at the right of a very tastefully decorated arch of pink and white roses, intermingled with evergreens. Suspended from the center was a large bell of the same decorations, and in the rear a magnificent spreading fern. The letters P. A., with the same color scheme, suspended from the ceiling, made appropriate adjuncts to the appearance of the surroundings. After the ring bearer came the matron of honor, Mrs. Gussie Alexander Epstein of Marlin, a sister of the groom and a charming young bride of six weeks. Next came the groom with his mother leaning upon his arm, and walked down the aisle formed by many relatives and friends. The bride elect, attended by her uncle, Mr. John B. Mike, next made her appearance, the synosure of all eyes. Taking their respective places the young couple were soon joined in the holy bonds of wedlock and received the hearty congratulations of all present. Immediately after the ceremony punch and light refreshments were served, presided over by little Miss Claire Schwarz.

Many useful and expensive presents and remembrances were received by the newly wedded pair. Both telegraph companies were kept busy bringing messages of loving congratulation from distant relatives and friends unable to be present on this auspicious occasion.

The bride was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Paris, deceased, was born and reared in Bryan, received her education in the public schools, and was very popular.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Alexander of Marlin, and a successful young business man.

The bride was handsomely gowned in champagne crepe de chene, trimmed in imported lace and chiffon, with white picture hat. The groom wore the regulation black.

The out of town guests were: Mr. J. Alexander of Marlin, Mr. and Mrs. H. Morris of Calvert, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Levy of Navasota, Mrs. Kupperman of Navasota, Mrs. Gussie Alexander Epstein of Marlin, Miss Minette Alexander of Marlin, Messrs. Kowalski Bros., of Brownsville, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Schwarz and little daughter of Waco, Mr. Sam Fant of Houston.

At 7 o'clock a six course family dinner was served with covers laid for thirty, during which toasts and pleasant remarks were indulged by all participants.

The bride and groom left on the early morning Central yesterday for Houston, Victoria and Waco, thence to Marlin where they will be at home.

HIS WIFE WOKE HIM UP.

Connecticut Man Nearly Choked to Death at Night.

No comment is needed on the following letter. It tells of fearful experiences that have fortunately been overcome.

“Dear Sirs: Often in the night my wife had to wake me up because I was almost choking to death with catarrh. I had one of the worst cases that was ever known, and skilful physicians said it was chronic.

Fortunately a friend told me of Hyomei, and I used this treatment faithfully, and to-day am free from catarrh. I used Hyomei perhaps five times a day and could soon see a great change. A complete outfit and an extra bottle cured me. I always carry a Hyomei inhaler in my pocket, so as to prevent any colds or slight catarrhal attacks that are common at this season of the year.

Yours fraternally,

Thos. Fincham, Putnam, Conn.

It is the easiest thing in the world to cure catarrh or catarrhal colds if you use Hyomei. Breathe its health-giving, balsamic air for a few minutes, and your catarrhal trouble will soon be cured.

The complete outfit costs but one dollar, and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the purse or vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a life-time, while extra bottles, if needed, can be obtained for 50 cents. In Bryan there are scores of well known people who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei. If it does not help you, E. J. Jenkins will return your money in accordance with the guarantee he gives with every outfit.

REAGAN PASSES AWAY

Distinguished Citizen of Texas and Southerner Dead.

HELD HIGH OFFICES.

Filled Two Confederate Cabinet Positions, Member of Both National House and Senate and a Railroad Commissioner.

Palestine, Tex., March 6.—Hon. John H. Reagan, after a brief illness, died of pneumonia at his residence, two miles south of this city, at 5 o'clock this morning.

This distinguished man first saw the light of day Oct. 8, 1818, in Sevier county, Tennessee. His last birthday, which was his eighty-sixth, was celebrated Oct. 8 last at the residence of a daughter, Mrs. Bettie Reagan Ferguson, in this city. On that occasion four generations dined together.

At the age of seventeen he managed a large flour mill and at twenty was a plantation overseer in Mississippi.

Judge Reagan came to Texas in 1849 and located at Fort Sam Houston, his historic home. Since that time his career has formed a large part of the Lone Star state's history. Following is a resume of Judge Reagan's busy life:

Volunteered in the army of the republic and fought the Cherokee Indians in the battles of July 15 and 16, 1839, on the border of Van Zandt and Henderson counties. Texans commanded by General Nat Smith and Chief Bowles commanded the Indians and was slain in the fight. Was commanded for gallant services and tendered a lieutenantcy in the regular army of the republic of Texas by Governor Burnett.

Appointed deputy surveyor in 1840 and served four years. Became a tutor in a private family and was elected captain of a military company and justice of the peace.

Pursued a band of hostile Indians in 1841 to Village Creek, ten miles from Fort Worth. Indians escaped.

Began the study of law in 1844 and received license to practice in same year.

In 1846 elected judge of the probate court of Henderson county and lieutenant-colonel of the state militia.

In 1847-8 elected to the legislature and licensed to practice law in supreme court.

In 1852 elected judge of district court; resigned to look after private business. In 1856 again elected district judge for a term of six years; resigned the office in 1858 to accept nomination and election to the congress of the United States. Admitted to practice law in the supreme court of the United States in same year.

In 1859 re-elected to congress. In 1860, an advocate of state's rights, he returned to Texas. Elected delegate to the state constitutional or secession convention. Elected a delegate to the provisional congress of the Confederate states of America at Richmond, Va.

In March, 1861, appointed postmaster general of the Confederacy by Jefferson Davis and was last survivor of the cabinet. On resignation of Mr. Trenholm he was made secretary of the treasury and discharged the duties of both offices until the surrender at Appomattox. Also fought at Seven Pines, Cold Harbor and before Richmond.

In 1865, on the 10th of May, was made a prisoner of war with Jefferson Davis and staff and his private secretary.

Declined the military governorship of Texas in 1867 and was a leader of the opponents of reconstruction.

In 1874 was elected to congress and in the same year elected a member of the constitutional convention which framed the present constitution, serving as chairman of the committee on judiciary. He served sixteen years in the lower house of congress.

In 1887 elected to the United States senate and was the author of the interstate commerce law.

In 1891 appointed chairman of the state board of railroad commissioners by Governor Hogg and resigned his seat in the senate to accept the position.

In 1893 was re-appointed commissioner by Governor Hogg.

In 1894 became a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, "the ambition of his life." After a memorable campaign was defeated by Hon. Charles A. Culberson.

In 1895 re-appointed railroad commissioner by Governor Culberson.

In 1896 commissioners were made elective and Judge Reagan was elected for the full term of six years, beginning in 1897.

In 1903 announced retirement from political life and returned to his country home, "Fort Sam Houston," to write memoirs of his busy life.

Last year was elected a delegate-at-large to the national Democratic convention.

Because of his advanced age, the death of Judge Reagan was not unexpected. He went to Houston on the 2d and transacted some business. When he returned home he complained of lung trouble and his physician pronounced the malady pneumonia. Sunday he grew rapidly worse. Gathered beside the venerable man as his honored life ebbed away were his wife, daughters and son-in-law.

Hundreds of sympathetic telegrams have been received from all parts of the United States.

The funeral was set for Wednesday at Palestine.

Prominent Mason.

Palestine, March 6.—The late John H. Reagan was a member of various Masonic lodges—Palestine commandery, No. 3, Knights Templar; Palestine commandery No. 10, Royal Arch Masons and Palestine lodge No. 3, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons. His book on the "Biography, Life and History of the Confederacy" was completed and handed to a northern house for publication.

Sorrow at Austin.

Austin, March 6.—The death of Hon. John H. Reagan was received with sadness. Governor Lanham was much affected. He, former Governor Lubbock and all state officials said they would attend the funeral.

COMPLETELY TURNED

Kuroki Directing a Vigorous Attack With Heavy Artillery.

TERRIFIC FIGHTING.

One Statement Is the Russians Are Holding Their Own, but It Is Also Said Their Right Is Bent Backward.

Mukden, March 6.—Reports from Japanese sources claim that the Russian right flank, southwest to south of Mukden and contiguous to the railway, has been completely turned by the Japanese forces under the immediate command of General Oku. To the eastward General Kuroki is directing a vigorous attack with heavy artillery fire against strongly fortified Russian positions. General Kuropatkin is said to be concentrating a strong force in front of General Kuroki and Nogi. It still remains probable that General Kuropatkin will find it difficult to retire to Tie Pass, which appears to be a necessary move. St. Petersburg has word that affairs latterly have taken on a turn for the better for Russian arms, but they were mostly old, referring to the fighting on the left flank, and General Linevitch's losses.

There is little news of General Kuropatkin's operations on the extreme east of the line. The Russians are holding their ground and even advancing, but it is said that a Japanese cavalry division with twelve quick fire guns is sweeping far to the eastward on a rapid turning movement.

The carnage at the centre and on both flanks has been enormous. The Japanese at many places simply threw away their lives, beating against the Russian's powerful fortifications in attacks in the center apparently were intended chiefly as a demonstration to cover the driving home of General Nogi's blow. It is believed now that the operation to the eastward was in part in the nature of a feint with the design to draw reinforcements thither. If this was the design it was successful. General Kuropatkin having sent the first corps to the assistance of General Linevitch.

As a result of the week's operations the Russian right is bent sharply backward instead of paralleling the Shakhe river, and now runs northwest and southeast, passing eight miles from Mukden, covering and crossing the Sininin road.

According to prisoners the Japanese force on the Liao river includes the First, Seventh and Ninth divisions, from Port Arthur. Part of the turning force is probably made up of reserves, which came from Yinkow by rail on seven trains. The Port Arthur veterans advanced to the attack shouting in Russian:

"Out of the way for us, we are from Port Arthur." They offered their lives with the same fanatical bravery and were as unshaken by heavy losses as at the siege of Port Arthur.

The Russian losses on both flanks are conceded to be enormous, but it is claimed that defenders of the center suffered comparatively little by the Japanese bombardment.

The attacks by General Nogi's soldiers were marvelous, in view of the forced marches which they made for six days, recalling the records of Stonewall Jackson's cavalry. They entered the battle with the greatest dash and fought day after day with vigor; but many of them who were taken prisoners dragged to the ground exhausted and hardly able to speak. They had not eaten for two days, which accounts in part for their utter fatigue.

INTENSELY DRAMATIC.

It is Believed That Kuropatkin Is In a Tight Place.

London, March 6.—The intensely dramatic situation in Manchuria developed by General Nogi's rapid advance and its strategic possibilities, has raised excitement in Europe to the highest pitch. English papers for a long time have practically ceased to receive war specials, and in this respect are lacking much information that is available in Associated Press dispatches. It is believed here that General Kuropatkin is in a very tight place and the chances of his extricating his army are keenly discussed. The abandonment of Mukden is considered to be inevitable, the only question being whether he will be able to effect a retreat to Tie Pass.

YOKOYAMA'S DRIVES.

Tokio, March 6.—Field Marshal Oyama is continuing his great drives around both flanks of the Russian army. His front is now a huge bow the base on the Shakhe river, the right arm reaching a point east of Fusan and the left arm extending to a point west of Mukden. He is steadily tightening the great cord of men and steel.

General Kuropatkin is striving desperately to check the advance, contesting the flank encroachments and hammering the Japanese center. The Japanese are making heavy gains of ground west of the railway and have captured great quantities of stores and other spoils. There already has been bloody fighting and heavy losses, and this will be vastly increased when the masses of infantry meet.

Two Squadrons Sighted.

London, March 6.—The German steamer Nubia, according to the correspondent of the Daily Mail at Hongkong, reports having sighted two Japanese squadrons on Saturday 100 miles southeast of Kongkong. The first squadron, comprising nine battleships and cruisers, was seen at 2 o'clock in the morning going at full speed with all lights out, and the second squadron of thirteen large warships was sighted in the afternoon.

RAGED CEASELESSLY.

Russians Cling to Their Works With Tenacity of Bulldogs.

Mukden, March 6.—All day Sunday the battle raged ceaselessly. The Japanese had been concentrating their energies on Mechaliapu, for the possession of which they had been struggling for two days, but with all their gallantry the Japanese were unable to dislodge the Russians, who clung to the works with bulldog tenacity. The Japanese shrapnel had been bursting within a mile and a half of the Hun railway bridge, which evidently is the Japanese objective. The capture of the position would render the occupation of Hun river position south of Mukden untenable.

Fierce and continuous artillery engagements took place about four miles north of Mechaliapu. From Hun bridge the long line of battle stretched in both directions as far as the eye could see. Northwest toward Tschakiao and eastward along the Shakhe river it was marked by a line of bursting shells. The Japanese as attackers suffered heavier than the Russians.

At 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon the guns began to roar west and northwest of the Mukden railroad station, where General Kuropatkin was launching an attack on the Japanese extreme left.

During Saturday night the Japanese repeatedly assaulted Pienchiapudin, Paotau Pass and Lanianyen, farther east, but all efforts were unavailing. The bombardment of Erdagou, Novgorod and Poutlioff hills continued unsuccessfully.

An official report in the Army Messenger Sunday said: "The southern position is unchanged as far as Shakhe river." After acknowledging that the Central army had fallen back from Sinchinpu in order to contract the length of the line of battle connecting the inner positions, the Army Messenger adds: "The spirits of the men are excellent. Marvelous composure is being displayed considering the approaching crisis." The paper admits the Russian losses are heavy, but says the battle is going on successfully.

All roads leading from Mechaliapu and the western plain have suddenly been invaded by battle crowded Chinese refugees. Opposite Poutlioff hill the Russians are reported to have captured two machine guns.

LIKE LEECHES.

One of the Greatest War Episodes Was an Act of Japanese.

Fusan, March 6.—Russians are using sixteen guns placed in position opposite Witosan and shelling the Japanese artillery position in villages on the plain occupied by troops and roads on which supply trains are passing to the front, but with no results.

Among the telling work of the Japanese army done by its infantry in fights no episode of the war surpasses the achievement of the force which on the night of March 2 gained a footing across the Shakhe river and are now holding two miles front after crawling up the bare stony hills like leeches. The Russian trenches are plainly visible, the soldiers moving about freely. Both sides suspended hostilities for three or four hours at midday and from midnight to morning. A terrific uproar is caused by the sounds of cannonading and rifle fire.

Fighting Is Desperate Along Almost the Entire Line.

St. Petersburg, March 6.—The Associated Press has learned that General Kuropatkin launched a blow at Field Marshal Oyama's left center just east of the railroad. Fighting was desperate along almost the entire line. Kuropatkin's losses in killed and wounded up to Sunday night are placed at 23,500. Oyama is believed to already have lost fully 40,000 men. The Japanese army, according to the prisoners, is greatly exhausted. They repeat the story that some of General Nogi's men have not had any food for two days.

SEEMINGLY CEASED.

Hmaburg, March 6.—The fitting out of the Hamburg-American steamers Belgravia, Phoenixia, Valesia and other vessels chartered by Russia or sold to the Russian East Asiatic Line company has seemingly ceased. No explanation has been furnished of this cessation of work.

DOING PATROL DUTY.

Aden, Arabia, March 6.—A Russian warship is reported to be patrolling the center to the Red sea. She has been turning her searchlights on passing vessels.

GOOD WINTER CAMPAGNERS.

Fusan, March 6.—The Japanese are proving as good winter campaigners in every respect as the Russians, a question upon which there has been considerable doubt.

TO APPOINT NEGRO.

Charles W. Anderson May Be an Internal Revenue Collector.

Washington, March 6.—There is authority for the positive statement that the president has fully decided upon the appointment of Charles W. Anderson, a negro lawyer of New York City, as internal revenue collector for the district of New York to succeed Charles H. Treat, who will be appointed to succeed Ellis H. Roberts, treasurer of the United States. These changes, however, will not be made until next June, when Mr. Roberts will have completed the eighth year of his term.

FAVORABLE TO COMPANY.

Washington, March 6.—The supreme court has affirmed the decision of the circuit court of appeals for the Second circuit in the case of Harriman vs. Northern Securities company, involving distribution of shares in the Northern Securities company. The decision is favorable to the company.

MANY NOMINATIONS.

Washington, March 6.—The president sent a large number of nominations to the senate Monday, including all members of the present cabinet except Postmaster General Wynne. George B. Cottely was nominated for that office.
